I, the undersigned, being an officer duly authorised in accordance with Section 74(1) and (4) of the Deregulation & Contracting Out Act 1994, to sign and issue certificates on behalf of the Comptroller-General, hereby certify that annexed hereto is a true copy of the documents as originally filed in connection with the patent application identified therein.

I also certify that the attached copy of the request for grant of a Patent (Form 1/77) bears an amendment, effected by this office, following a request by the applicant and agreed to by the Comptroller-General.

In accordance with the Patents (Companies Re-registration) Rules 1982, if a company named in this certificate and any accompanying documents has re-registered under the Companies Act 1980 with the same name as that with which it was registered immediately before re-registration save for the substitution as, or inclusion as, the last part of the name of the words "public limited company" or their equivalents in Welsh, references to the name of the company in this certificate and any accompanying documents shall be treated as references to the name with which it is so re-registered.

In accordance with the rules, the words "public limited company" may be replaced by p.l.c., plc, P.L.C. or PLC.

Re-registration under the Companies Act does not constitute a new legal entity but merely subjects the company to certain additional company law rules.

PERFECT SWING:

This invention relates to a practice aid to improve the golfer's swing.

It is recognised that a golfer's swing is a key part of his/hers game. Many golfers move their head, body etc when swinging, therefore impeding the accuracy of their swing. The perfect swing is a practice aid for golfers whereby the golfer can train themselves to eliminate movement by concentrating on the marked point which is the spot seen through the viewer, therefore greatly improving their game.

According to the present invention there are adjustment grooves, a block with a marked point and viewer.

A specific embodiment of the invention will now be described by way of example with reference to the accompanying drawing in which:-

Fig 1 shows in perspective the guide block in position

Fig 2 adjustment grooves

Fig 3 marked point

Fig 4 viewer

Fig 7 Hinge

The practice aid is placed the opposite side of the ball to which the player stands, a few inches away from the tee. The guide block 1 is adjusted to the appropriate position by means of the adjustment grooves 2 so that the golfer can see the marked point 3 which is situated on its lower segment through the viewer 4.

The golfer would take his/her stance over the tee and visual contact with the marked point must be maintained in order to prevent movement of the head, body etc and the swing will be enhanced.

The dimensions of the viewer are such that if any movement occurs then visual contact with the marked point will be lost.

If movement occurs then visual contact will be lost and the ball will not be projected in the desired direction. When movement occurs the golfer is required to re-adjust his/hers position until visual contact is resumed and try again.

The apparatus can be used without a ball, by practicing the back swing over and over again.

Claims:

1. The perfect swing is an ideal practice aid for the driving range or garden.
2. With continued practice, movement of the head, body is eliminated by concentration on the marked point.
3. The viewer is of such dimensions that the marked point can only be viewed with minimal movement.
4. The perfect swing can be used with or without a ball
5. The perfect swing is adjustable to suite any difference in height of the golfer, and difference in club length.
